

The Palace, Mysore,

17th July 1920.

My dear Sir,

Thanks very much indeed for your courtesy in sending me a copy of your letter to the Dewan on the subject of the Mysore Loan. I find that page 3 of ^{the copy of} your letter to the Dewan is missing, and shall be obliged if you will send me a fresh copy of the letter.

I noticed the other day that the road on which your house is situated has got a very curious name. The Municipality ought certainly to name it after you! I am going to suggest it to Mr. Garudachar and hope you have no objection to my doing so.

Yours sincerely,

K.P. Puttanna Chetty, Esq., C.I.E.,
Bangalore.
